Evergreens for Beauty, Utility and Permanence

THE first step on the home path should lead you into the charm of evergreens and flowers. Take the right first step by buying our Friendship Offer.

ORNAMENTAL groups of evergreens as a foreground to the house are unequalled for permanent and suitable decoration. Our Friendship Offer makes a fine small group.

A protecting screen of natural beauty, from wind, dust and the eyes of passers-by. For the finest or the simplest home there is nothing better than Pines.

Add the all year glory of Evergreens to your home

WHEN you turn into your drive at day's end, are you welcomed by an atmosphere of joyous beauty,—a home worth working for? The right planting does it.

WITHOUT the background of Junipers and Firs the garden would be a flat field of flowers, uninspired and undistinguished. "Evergreens in the Garden" is an interesting chapter of our Year Book.

ONE of the pictures in the chapter on "Drives and Paths" in our Year Book. The dignity and gracious beauty of evergreens suits the superb drives of fine estates.

Colorado Blue Spruce

the rare Evergreen from the high Rockies, is first choice of most people for ornamental use. Distinguished in form, lustrous "blue green" or glaucous, erect, hardy and healthy, it is the high light of any evergreen group.

Little Tree Farms produces the highest quality of this costly species at the most moderate price.

Arborvitae

the favorite of generations of gardeners, is another leading product of Little Tree Farms. Its flat layers of fragrant light green foliage are a gracious contrast to the spruces and pines. Its form is symmetrical and columnar, and can be modified, if desired, by trimming. "Easily best" for hedges, gardens, groups, and screens.

Prostrate Juniper

is one of the most delicately charming of all low-growing evergreens; invaluable for edging a group, a path, or a bed-planting. Clear green, with shimmering underside of frosty gray. The demand pushes the supply hard, but we want you to have one of these choice plants in your Friendship Offer.

THESE SIX CHOICE EVERGREENS

Illustrated at the sides of this page, are the Little Tree Farms Friendship Offer for 1922—Photograph on cover. They will make a charming lawn or doorway decoration for you, and we believe will win a valued friend for us. They are choice individual specimens, chosen for quality and beauty in combination. The smallest has a foot and half spread; the largest is four feet tall. All are vigorous, big rooted, fully foliated, of the well-known "three times transplanted" quality.

Each evergreen is dug with roots undisturbed in a ball of its native earth, and tied in burlap. Packed by experts in a light wooden crate. Delivered free to the Express Office at Framingham, Mass.; average shipping weight 150 pounds. Remittance must accompany order.

AN EXTRAORDINARY
VALUE FOR $10.00

SPRING is here. It is time to get up, stretch a bit, walk out in the sun. Everyone is feeling the inevitable urge to make something green. The soil is patting down nasturtium seeds and Lima beans, all in one lot.

Perfect Upon Arrival

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29, 1921.

"The shipment of evergreen trees arrived yesterday in perfect condition. The stock was of fine quality, well suited to the purpose intended and I thank you heartily for the same."

The Best Ever

Pittsfield, Mass., Sept. 20, 1921.

"Permit me to compliment you on the handsome specimens you sent me in filling my late order. I have bought shrubs, etc., for twenty years and always plant them myself, but I never handled such splendid ones before."

Wonderful Little Trees

Cumberland, Md., Feb. 21, 1922.

"A few years ago I had a shipment of Blue Spruce. They were all wonderful little trees. I did not lose one of them."

THIS is our "Six for Five" Offer. The little evergreens are high quality stock, sturdy and well rooted. They can be set out in any well prepared soil, where they will successfully show what a very small sum will buy at Little Tree Farms. Suited for window boxes or to add an evergreen note to the shrubbery or garden. Nice little hedge plants. Shipped to you in one burlap bundle, roots carefully packed in moss; delivered free to express or post office, Framingham, Mass. Average shipping weight 25 lbs. On the other side of this folder are six pictures of

One of the earliest things to plant is evergreens: get them in the ground in time to heighten the delicate beauty of your bulbs and flowering shrubs. Their varying green and soft outlines at your doorstep, along the foundations of the house, or at the corner of your path, will be a joy. They enhance all that is beautiful, soften and hide all that is not. They are the choice of the best gardeners, alike for small grounds and large.

Little Tree Farms Evergreens are adding charm to many thousands of homes. They have made a host of friends for their comrades still "in the nursery", ready to "come out". May we introduce six of these waiting members to you in our Friendship Offer? We have picked out the most popular six, fitted to win your friendship by their beauty and to hold it by their sterling quality.

Seriously, we don't know how else you can buy so much lasting beauty and satisfaction for your home grounds at so low a cost. Send for the Friendship Offer today.

Red Pine

makes a splendid rich background for the other evergreens. Your specimen will win you with its big, soft bunches of long, dark green needles, breathing spicily of the forest.

You will want to read about the uses of this rare and valuable Pine in our Year Book.

White Spruce

silvery green, leads up to the brighter sheen of the Blue Spruce. Equally erect, rather slenderly compact in form, it combines delightfully with the broader cone of the Blue Spruce and the slim spire of the Juniper. Our White Spruces are unsurpassed in healthy beauty for specimens, groups, hedges and windbreaks.

Erect Juniper

For formal effects and for informal decoration alike, landscape architects have no substitute for Juniperus Virginiana. It is quite the prettiest medium-sized evergreen of our flora. Its classically slender column and feathery foliage harmoniously blend with the best planting of house, garden and grounds. The wide variety of its individual form and texture is a culminating charm.

THE YEAR BOOK OF LITTLE TREE FARMS

For 1922 is really a beautifully illustrated magazine of home planting and forest landscaping, bound in a charming cover in color. The first pages reproduce a hundred photographs of plantings designed by different landscape architects, and ranging from a small evergreen group by the door to a magnificent formal garden. Each is described and a clear idea of material and cost is given. You can hardly fail to find here the type of decorative or utility planting that suits your purpose.

The second section of the Year Book gives fine photographs of the best evergreens, trees and shrubs for such plantings, with prices. In nearly every species a special offer is made of attractive groups and combinations at extremely low prices. Our Friendship Offer for 1922 is the chief of these.

Clear and interesting information is given about the right species for different conditions: what to plant by the sea, in the shade, on dry banks, etc.; what to plant for color, contour, spring beauty, etc. And this information is the work of forest engineers and landscape men of training and long experience; you may trust it. We have letters constantly, saying, "the most helpful catalog I have ever read," and similar pleasant things. We are sure it will be of help to you. Sent on request.
